

who's who who's who who's who who's who who's who who's who

Following a highly competitive national recruitment, Deschutes County has hired Robert Tintle as its new chief financial officer.

Tintle, who will join the County in late September, replaces Greg Munn, who served as the Deschutes County Chief Financial Officer for two years.

Tintle has served as the Lane County treasurer, financial services manager and ARPA and Grants manager. He has also worked for the City of Eugene.

Tintle earned a master's degree in Public Administration from Norwich University and a bachelor's degree in Accounting from Linfield University.

As Deschutes County's chief financial officer, Tintle will direct the County's finance, accounting, tax collection and payroll functions. He will also serve as the County tax collector and the tax administrator for the County's Transient Room Tax Ordinance.

Robert
Tintle

internship coordinator. As a Central Oregon native, Wilkins knows firsthand the incredible opportunities young people have access to in our growing region. In this role she will help students find internships that align with their passions and develop the skills necessary for the variety of workforce industry needs in the Redmond area. Having recently returned to Central Oregon after spending time in New England, Wilkins brings with her a background in grassroots organizing and human services. Her experience working with young people both inside and outside of the classroom setting will serve her well in this new role.

Gemma Cock, BVetMed, MRCVS, Dipl. ACVIM-LA, has joined Bend Equine Medical Center as an associate veterinarian and internal medicine specialist. Cock is now the only board-certified internist serving horses in Central and Eastern Oregon. She is also currently available to see goats, sheep, alpacas and llamas on a limited basis. Cock is a graduate of The Royal Veterinary College in London, England, is a Member of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons and completed her veterinary internal medicine residency at the University of Florida College of Veterinary Medicine.

Gemma
Cock

Katie
Cornelius

ColeBreit Engineering announces the arrival of Katie Cornelius, PE to our Bend office. Cornelius is a senior electrical engineer and directs our Electrical Engineering group. Previously leading ColeBreit's electrical team from the firm's Napa location, the addition of Cornelius to our Bend office further strengthens ColeBreit's electrical engineering capabilities and expertise, as she brings 15 years of electrical engineering, lighting design and project management in the winery, hospitality, commercial, residential, government/military and higher education market sectors.

NewsChannel 21 introduces the newest member of the NewsChannel 21 news team: Cathy Marshall.

Marshall will be joining the NewsChannel 21 at Sunrise morning news cast as anchor, alongside anchor Rhea Panella and chief meteorologist Bob Shaw.

Marshall comes to Central Oregon with nearly 40 years of experience in broadcast news as a reporter and anchor. She has worked as an anchor for CNN and has also worked with news stations in Boston, New Haven, Seattle and Portland, Oregon, and as a sideline reporter for Beaver Sports Network. She has been working as a reporter, anchor and managing editor at NBC affiliate, KGW in Portland since 2011 and now joins the NewsChannel 21 team as Sunrise anchor.

Marshall is a long-time resident of Oregon and graduated with honors from Oregon State University with a bachelor's degree in speech communications.

As an anchor she's been part of Emmy winning breaking news coverage and also been recognized by the Associated Press for her reporting. She has covered many historical events live while anchoring for CNN, including the storming of the Branch Davidian compound in Waco Texas, the day that Nelson Mandela was released from prison, the arrest of OJ Simpson and the fall of the Soviet Union.

Cathy Marshall

Cheyenne Purrington

Following a highly competitive national recruitment, Deschutes County and partnering cities Bend, La Pine, Redmond and Sisters have hired Cheyenne Purrington as Central Oregon's first Houseless Strategies and Solutions director.

Purrington will lead the newly created Coordinated Houseless Response Office. The Office will streamline the work of dozens of local organizations serving our regional houseless population as well as enable a community-wide approach to addressing houselessness under a shared set of principles, priorities and strategies.

The County-Cities Coordinated Houseless Response Office has a Governing Board of Directors made up of one representative from the Board of County Commissioners and one representative from each city council.

Purrington recently served as the executive director of the Tahoe Coalition for the Homeless and has provided strategic consulting for numerous homeless-serving nonprofits and public agencies in California. She has nearly two decades of experience supporting diverse teams and collaborating with community stakeholders to address homelessness.

OnPoint Community Credit Union has hired attorney and finance law expert Wendy Beth Oliver to serve as senior vice president and chief legal officer. She joins the Executive Team of Oregon's largest credit union with more than 489,000 members and $9.3 billion in assets.

As chief legal officer, Oliver leads OnPoint's legal strategy and team, aligns its legal and business goals and advises the credit union on corporate governance, contracts, compliance and regulatory issues. Oliver previously served as the credit union's vice president and general counsel, managing the credit union's legal compliance and corporate governance.

Oliver has more than 30 years of experience as a legal advisor in the financial services industry, providing outside counsel for a range of financial services companies, including banks, mortgage and small business firms and a fintech startup. Before joining OnPoint as chief legal officer, she held general counsel and chief compliance officer positions at Grit Financial Inc. and Aven, a California-based fintech startup.

Oliver received her bachelor of arts from the University of Chicago and her juris doctorate from Duke University School of Law. Oliver received her master's in public administration from the Ford School of Public Policy at the University of Michigan, where she was a Gramlich Fellow.

Oliver serves on the vestry of St. David of Wales Episcopal Church, volunteers at Brigid's Table to help prepare and serve dinners, and serves on the Oregon State Bar's Client Security Fund Committee. She lives in Clackamas County and is an avid gardener and adventurous traveler.

Wendy Beth Oliver

Jon
Wilson

Central Oregon welcomes Jon Wilson, owner/operator of Yellow Brew Bus. Wilson was raised in Reno, Nevada and studied education at the University of Nevada, Reno. During his studies he worked as a bartender at local bars and breweries where he excelled at customer service and, seeing a need for safe and knowledgeable brewery transportation, started his company.

Wilson moved his business to Bend where his wife was born and raised. Yellow Brew Bus focuses on transportation centered around Central Oregon's breweries, distilleries, cideries and wineries.

Economic Development for Central Oregon (EDCO) announced the addition of three team members. Kelly Michel, Nicole Mcnew and Bre Wilkins bring a diverse set of economic development, marketing and program management skills that will be critical to growing EDCO's impact and mission. EDCO was supported by their partners at Mid Oregon Personnel in recruiting Michel for the director of membership development role, while Express Employment Professionals provided hiring and recruitment services for the director of marketing and communications and Redmond internship coordinator positions.

In the director of membership development role, Michel will actively develop EDCO's membership to expand the growing region's network of business leaders, members, partners and advisors. Michel brings over 12 years of nonprofit experience to her role, most recently overseeing fundraising and community engagement at St. Charles Health System where she built the corporate sponsorship program, grew events and launched patient and community advisory boards. Michel is a graduate of Leadership Bend class of 2018 and recently earned an MBA from Washington State University.

Mcnew joins the team as director of marketing and communications, and is focused on maintaining and growing EDCO's voice across the region while assisting with marketing and public relations efforts consistent with EDCO's mission of creating a vibrant and diversified regional economy in Central Oregon. Prior to moving to Central Oregon Mcnew was responsible for growing a community of entrepreneurs, healthcare businesses and technology leaders to address market needs in the healthcare industry. With a bachelor of communications from Adelphi University in New York and a master of business administration from Regis University in Denver, Mcnew brings experience in nonprofit marketing, startup ecosystems and industry innovation to give voice to the dynamic economic drivers in Central Oregon.

Wilkins works with the Youth CareerConnect program as the EDCO Redmond

Courtney
Roach

The Center Orthopedic & Neurosurgical Care & Research announces the most recent addition to their pediatric orthopedic team, Courtney Roach, PA-C. Roach began practicing as a physician assistant in 2019, pursuing a career in medicine in order to help people improve their lives. She is passionate about working with a dedicated team of experts to help her patients achieve their goals. Specializing in pediatric orthopedics, her priority is to make children and their families feel safe, informed and well taken care of throughout their patient experience.

Prior to moving to Bend, Roach worked as an orthopedic pediatric physician assistant at Legacy Medical Group in Portland, Oregon. She is a member of the American Academy of Physician Assistants (AAPA). She loves being outdoors and, particularly snowboarding, hiking, mountain biking, paddling, soccer and taking her Papillon, Pica, on all of her outdoor adventures.

The results of Sunset Magazine's prestigious 2022 Sunset Travel Awards were recently announced, and five Central Oregon businesses were among the winners chosen from more than 300 entries. Among them, Imperial River Co. and Tumalo Creek Kayak & Canoe won in the Best Outdoor Activities category, Oasis Cabin Resort and SCP Redmond Hotel won in the Best Basecamps category and Brasada Ranch won in the Rad Ranches category.