Kathleen Henshaw

SELCO Community Credit Union recently promoted Kathleen Henshaw to manager of its West Redmond branch. In this role, Henshaw will oversee all day-to-day operations at the branch, which is located at 825 SW 17th St. in Redmond.

Henshaw joined SELCO in 2021 as assistant manager of SELCO's East Bend branch, a position she held until her promotion. Before coming to SELCO, Henshaw worked at Columbia Bank for nearly nine years, most recently serving as an assistant branch manager in Redmond.

Henshaw grew up in Hillsboro, Oregon and has lived in Bend since 2018. She graduated from Pacific University in Forest Grove in 2013 with a bachelor of arts in French. Over the years, she has been an active volunteer for several organizations, including Oregon Food Bank, Hillsboro Medical Center (formerly Tuality Community Hospital), Hillsboro School District and the Ambassador Board of Friends of the Children-Central Oregon.

In her free time, Henshaw enjoys cooking, gardening, cross-stitch and taking her dogs on hikes and short fishing trips. One of her 2023 New Year's resolutions is to commit to reading in French.

Touchmark at Mount Bachelor Village announced Angela Stewart's recent promotion to vice president of Clinical Services. Stewart brings significant community operations, business acumen and clinical services experience to the position from nearly 11 years at Touchmark. During that time, she has served in many capacities at Touchmark at Mount Bachelor Village, including health services director and assistant executive director.

In her new role, Stewart will guide Touchmark's clinical operations strategic vision and program initiatives and coordinate health services support for its 15 full-service retirement communities. All offer independent and assisted living, memory care and specialty services.

While growing up, her family lived in seven states: Washington, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, Kansas, Virginia and Oregon. The frequent moves encouraged adventure and fostered Stewart's desire to meet people, learn about their lives and motivate them toward new opportunities and positive moments.

Stewart holds a master's in adult education with a Gerontology emphasis from the University of Wyoming. Her undergraduate work was at Sterling College, where she earned a bachelor of science in education and bachelor of arts in art and design and learned about the essence of servant leadership — a focus she integrates into her personal and professional life. She also has been a Certified Best Friends master trainer as well as earning the designation of Certified Cognitive Stimulation instructor.

LRS Architects announced the promotions of designers Mira Boumatar and Kelsey Loverro to associate. Boumatar works in various studios, including civic, commercial, housing and adaptive reuse, where her intuitive, technological approach has provided creative opportunities for the firm. Loverro works in the firm's multi-family housing and workplace studios and has also lent her design expertise to the hospitality and auto sectors.

Boumatar joined LRS in 2015, and her resourcefulness and ingenuity have anchored her design philosophy, highlighted by her leadership role in the firm's virtual reality programming space. Always calm and collected, Boumatar effuses a comforting atmosphere that inspires team members to do their best. She serves on the firm's Justice, Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (JEDI) Committee, as well as a member of the Practice Committee, Social Committee and the CCA Taskforce, where her influence and thoughtfulness foster a more productive and welcoming work environment. Boumatar earned her bachelor of architecture from the American University of Beirut.

Joining LRS in 2014, Loverro's exuberant and warm personality lights up every room she enters. Her tenure at the firm has seen her grow from a support role designer to leading entire design projects from inception to completion. She fosters a team-oriented approach that allows each team member to produce their highest level of work. In addition to her excellent design work, her contributions extend to social media marketing, art directing photo shoots and bringing new projects to the multi-family housing and workplace studios. Loverro is a registered member of the National Council for Interior Design Qualification (NCIDQ), which recognizes the highest level of proficiency in interior design principles and a designer's commitment to their profession. She earned her bachelor of interior architecture from the University of Oregon.

Charlie Bennett

J Bar J Boys Ranch welcomes new program manager Charlie Bennett. Bennett grew up as an "Air Force brat" living in Texas, Michigan, California and Nebraska. After spending over a year abroad in Korea as a youth on an Air Force Base, Bennett moved to Virginia where he stayed for high school and college. He played football at the Virginia Military Institute where he earned a bachelor of arts degree in economics and business.

After moving to the west coast, Bennett made a career change from sales representative for an international building supply company to social work, working with at risk youth for a wraparound program in Washington state where he became familiar with strength based strategic planning for youth. This led to an opportunity to become a case manager at a community mental health center working with both adults and youth in need of short term interventions.

After moving from Washington to Oregon with his wife, two kids and two dogs, he began working at J Bar J as a case manager and resident monitor. From there, he worked at Oregon Youth Challenge Program where he gained experience in a residential boot camp setting. When offered the opportunity to be a program manager he has happy to come back to the Ranch and work with J Bar J.

Recently the Redmond City Council unanimously approved Mayor Ed Fitch's appointment of Tobias Colvin to Redmond City Council. Colvin will serve out the remaining two years of the Council seat vacated by newly elected Mayor Ed Fitch.

Colvin is currently the general manager of the SCP Hotel, formerly the historic New Redmond Hotel, and has worked in the hospitality field for the past 22 years. He and his family moved to Central Oregon in 2017 and has served on the Redmond Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, Redmond Downtown Association and as Chairman of the Downtown Urban Renewal Advisory Committee.

The appointment is effective immediately. The term expires December 31, 2025.

Cain Credicott

The Credicott Agency is a new health insurance brokerage in Central Oregon. According to owner, Cain Credicott, their focus is on providing affordable and comprehensive coverage options for businesses and individuals. They specialize in innovative solutions like medical cost sharing plans, individual coverage health reimbursement arrangements (ICHRA) and employee assistance programs.

Uninterested in doing things the way they've always been done, The Credicott Agency operates under the idea that it's time to reimagine how we pay for healthcare. By utilizing emerging, groundbreaking strategies, they aim to increase access to high-quality care while helping businesses and individuals better control their costs.

Cain has over 20 years of experience in the health and wellness community. He welcomes this new opportunity to apply his unique perspective to help fellow Central Oregonians navigate the often confusing and frustrating financial aspects of healthcare.

In honor of School Board Recognition Week, The High Desert Education Service District (HDES) is celebrating its two newest board members alongside the entire HDES board of directors. Appointed by Sisters School District in 2022, Edie Jones is a strong advocate of early childhood education and authored a book on the subject called Raising Kids with Love, Honor and Respect. She has spent more than two decades working with the Together for Children organization, including serving as executive director. She is also a member of the Sisters School Board. Appointed to represent the local business community, Anthony Georger is the controller and vice president of finance for Seran Bioscience. He brings more than 15 years of accounting and finance experience, specializing in aerospace, agricultural and media industries. He moved from New England to Central Oregon with his wife and three children in 2020, and has been actively engaged and interested in the local education system.

HDES's other celebrated board members include: Seana Barry, HR operations manager COCC; Gwen Carr, Crook County Board member and community advocate; Betsy Julian, retired higher education administrator; Peggy Kinkade (board chair), community volunteer; Matt McGowan (vice chair), insurance consultant; Carlos Perez, retired administrator; and Elizabeth Sanchez, language access coordinator, Deschutes County.

Ladybug

After four years on the job, K9 Ladybug retired in December 2022.

Ladybug, a drug detection K9, is a nine-year-old Belgian Malinois. She was purchased from Golden Gate K9 in Santa Rosa, California, which provides patrol and drug detection K9s to agencies up and down the West Coast.

Ladybug trained as a passive alert detection dog, meaning she sits and stays or lays and stares when she detects the source of narcotic odors.

She and her handler, Detective Rob Pennock, completed an initial 240 hours of training at the Washington State Department of Corrections Narcotic Dog Academy. She was certified in Washington, Oregon and California and never failed a certification test, passing them in March and April of 2019, January, April and July of 2020 and April and November of 2021.

In 43 months working, from March 2019 through November 2022, Ladybug was deployed 505 times. She seized 14,804 grams of methamphetamine, 10,959 grams of heroin, 3,588 grams of cocaine and 4,317 fentanyl pills during that time. In addition to her drug seizures, Ladybug also recovered $18,400 in cash, 13 illegal guns and was part of 233 arrests.

Of note, Ladybug's role on patrol decreased dramatically after a 2021 Oregon Court of Appeals case changed how drug detection dogs could be used on traffic stops.

Over her tenure with the Bend Police Department, Ladybug was an invaluable member of our team and we thank her for her service. Her handler, Detective Pennock, now works with K9 Bonnie.

Hayden Homes announced the company has been named Central Oregon Builders Association's 2022 Builder of the Year. Hayden Homes also received the honor in 2019. The award was announced during COBA's recent Excellence Awards Night at the Bend Golf and Country Club.

When naming Builder of the Year, COBA considers presence in the area, number of homes built, job creation, the economic impact of the builder and community support. Hayden Homes has contributed $4.9 billion to local economies and created more than 85,000 jobs since the company's inception in 1989.

Since 2004, the U.S. Kids Golf Top 50 Coach award is widely recognized as the pinnacle achievement for junior golf coaches worldwide. Award recipients are chosen based on their contributions to youth golf in their community. These contributions include but are not limited to coaching players ages 12 and under, use of the Player Pathway in advancing their players, creativity, engagement with parents, organization and experience. Coaches named a Top 50 for a third time earn the title of Master Kids Coach.

Central Oregon Symphony announces the winners of the Young Artist Competition. First: Kenneth Ma, cellist; second: Richelle Shi, pianist; and third: Cara Wang, cellist.

Central Oregon Symphony states they received a record number of submissions from young artists across the country, and look forward to featuring them at our Winter Concert Series taking place at Bend Senior High School on February 25 and 26.

Redmond Cub Scouts Race Pinewood Derby Cars at Bend Showroom

A 50+ year tradition for Cub Scouts, Redmond's Pack 27 held their annual Pinewood Derby on January 21 at the Kendall Toyota of Bend showroom. It is estimated that over 50 million kids have built pinewood derby cars during these 50 years throughout the world.

Redmond Cub Scouts have been working on designing and building their pinewood derby cars over the last month. They checked in their cars for weight and regulation, and made adjustments at the tune up table as needed. Then, they were off to the races on a timed track, kicking off at 10am. Awards were granted for fastest time by age group, judge's pick and best design.

Kendall Toyota hosted Pinewood Derby in their showroom as part of their Kendall Cares program. Kendall Cares is designed to give back to our community through memorable and impactful events and initiatives. In Central Oregon, the Kendall Cares program focuses on supporting children, families and education, which is why the Cub Scouts are a great organization to partner with.

Scouting creates opportunities through programs and activities that allow youth ages five to 18 to try new things, provide service to others, build self-confidence and reinforce ethical standards.
